TOPIC ---

When a file is published, is its original format maintained? If I publish a paragraph of text with PostScript fonts, does the subscriber get PostScript fonts? What if he has different fonts, or only TrueType fonts?

DISCUSSION ---

If the font that is used in the published document is not available in the subscriber's system, Geneva is used.

If the font is in the System folder, the subscriber's resident font format determines both screen and printer output.
