A/UX and Netware (8/93)

Article Created: 10 March 1993
Article Reviewed/Updated: 6 August 1993

TOPIC ---

Is it possible to run Netware under A/UX so that the PCs on the network could use the A/UX station for Novell print services?

DISCUSSION --

According to Novell, no Netware for A/UX product is available. However, Novell has licensed their Netware code to Acer Computers (formerly Alto Computers), a vendor of Intel-based UNIX workstations. Acer Computers has written their own Netware code for Acer's UNIX host, and the code is reported to be portable for other UNIX platforms. Contact Acer Computers for more details. To locate a vendor's address and phone number, use the vendor name as a search string.
