QuickDraw GX/PowerTalk Installer Disk: Choose Button (2/95)

=====================================================================

Article Created: 12 September 1994
Article Reviewed/Updated: 15 February 1995

TOPIC -----------------------------------------------------

This article describes the QuickDraw GX/PowerTalk Installer disk, and the need to select which install script you wish to install. If the script is not double clicked, a choose button allows you to navigate to the installer script you want to use.

DISCUSSION ------------------------------------------------

The QuickDraw GX/PowerTalk Installer disk has two scripts, "Install QuickDraw GX" and "Install PowerTalk". If you click on the installer application instead of a script, you are presented with the message, "The Installer found 2 Installer documents on the disk 'disk name'.  Please open the specific document you wish to use.", along with Quit and Choose buttons.

The "Choose" button will allow you to navigate to the installer script you want to install.
