Tech Info Library

QuickTake 150: Developers Can Contact APDA (6/95)

```
Revised:        6/27/95
Security:       Everyone
```

QuickTake 150: Developers Can Contact APDA (6/95)

===

Article Created: 27 June 1995

TOPIC ---

A developer is requesting information in order to write an interface to use the QuickTake 150 on a computer that is not compatible with Mac OS or Windows.

DISCUSSION ---

Apple Computer supports the QuickTake cameras on two platforms, Macintosh and Windows. If a developer wants to support platforms other than these, there is technical documentation available from the Apple Programmers and Developers Association (APDA) called the QuickTake Software Developers Kit.

It would also be possible to download images from a QuickTake camera into either a Windows or Macintosh computer, and then transfer the files to another platform in a image file format that is compatible with that machine.

Search the Technical Information Library (TIL) for "APDA" in order to locate contact information.

Support Information Services

Copyright 1995, Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:18028