

Tech Info Library

PowerBook 2300 & 5300: Do Not Need JLK Font Extension 3 (2/96)

Revised: 2/20/96
Security: Everyone

PowerBook 2300 & 5300: Do Not Need JLK Font Extension 3 (2/96)

=====

Article Created: 20 February 1996

TOPIC -----

The Read Me files for the PowerBook 5300 and 2300 series computers say that if the Japanese Language Kit (JLK) version 1.2 is installed, the Font Extension 3 file needs to be installed as well. The ReadMe file directs you to the Apple Extras folder to find the Font Extension 3 file, but it is not there. Why not?

DISCUSSION -----

The reference to this file in the ReadMe for the PowerBook 5300 and 2300 series computers is in error. As of this writing, only the PowerBook 190 series computers require the Font Extension 3 file if Japanese Language Kit 1.2 is being used. On the PowerBook 190 series computers, the file can be found in the Apple Extras folder as referenced in the ReadMe.

The PowerBook 5300 and 2300 series computers do not require the Font Extension 3 file and the reference in the ReadMe should be ignored.

Copyright 1996, Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:19375