

Tech Info Library

Apple MessagePad: Default System Dates (5/96)

Revised: 5/8/96
Security: Everyone

Apple MessagePad: Default System Dates (5/96)

=====

Article Created: 8 May 1996

TOPIC -----

I am trying to create a new not on an Apple MessagePad 120. When I draw a line underneath an existing note, the line disappars and a new note does not show on the screen.

DISCUSSION -----

Either scroll up, or look at the notes overview for the new notes. If you performed a hard reset and did not set the date, new notes appear before any existing notes.

Below is a table which shows the default system date and time settings.

Begin_Table

MessagePad Model	Default System Date and Time	Default Note Date
Original MP	1 Jan 1993 12:00 PM	1/1/93 11:00 AM
100 w/1.3 OS	3 Jan 1994 12:00 PM	1/3/94 11:00 AM
110 w/1.3 OS	3 Jan 1994 12:00 PM	1/3/94 11:00 AM
120 w/1.3 OS	3 Jan 1994 12:00 PM	1/3/94 11:00 AM
120 w/2.0 OS	4 Nov 1995 03:00 AM	11/4/95 03:01 AM
130 w/2.0 OS	1 Nov 1995 02:08 PM	11/1/95 02:08 PM

End_Table

When setting the clock, you should first check the Time Zones for the correct setting. The default setting is the Pacific Time zone.

Copyright 1996, Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:19738